

Description :

This chatbot is designed to help tourists explore cities. I can handle “things to do” questions that are unique to NYC. The RAG captures information about establishments that provide an experience that contributes to NYC’s popularity. When a user asks about “Getting a bagel” or “Dining at a deli” they are given appropriate recommendations. Further if they ask questions common to an average tourist like “I want to visit a museum” or “I want to have Mexican for lunch” even then a correct response is provided.
